Student Rank Within Class

Each student should strive for high achievement in classwork within his/her own capabilities. Although grades only partially indicate degree and quality of learning, they are generally accepted as both a measure of past achievement as well as potential success. Since colleges, universities, and scholarship organizations require some indication of relative academic standing, each school will maintain for each class a list of student rank based upon the weighted 9-12 grade point average, including physical education.

Class rank is updated at the end of each semester and may be reported on the student transcript.
