Reporting to Parents/Progress Reports

The Governing Board believes that good communication between parent/guardian and teacher is important in the educational process. Reporting Contacts between parent/guardian and teacher should be varied and frequent, and all appropriate forms of communication should be utilized, including parent-teacher conferences, email, mail, and telephone.

Student progress reports shall reflect the educational progress of the student in terms of classwork and the attainment of the state academic content standards. The report may also indicate educational growth in relation to the student's ability, attitude, interests, and conduct or citizenship.

A written report shall be sent to and/or a conference shall be held with the student's parent/guardian in the event the student is in danger of failing the course.

Students on an individualized education program (IEP) are regularly evaluated, on progress toward IEP goals. The progress reports shall be communicated to the parents/guardians according to the regulations and procedures of the special education service region.
